

You can create local variables for the pipelines within the template by prefixing the variable name with a "$" sign. Variable names have to be composed of alphanumeric characters and the underscore. In the example below I have used a few variations that work for variable names.